How did it all begin?

You may be reading this issue of the BROADSHEET at this year's Flower Festival – where we hand out some 300 copies each year to visitors who may not otherwise see this. Or it may be dropped through your letterbox by our band of volunteers in the days following the Festival. You might even be someone who receives it by post or one of some 300 or so who see it by email.

Have you ever wondered how the Flower Festival got started at St. Peter's? I have been talking to an elderly member of our congregation who was at the first one – 37 years ago in 1981.

I am told that for many years (probably before my friend was born!) prior to 1981 there had been a summer Garden Party at the church. Held first in the Victorian Vicarage garden and meadow, then in the gardens of Aldborough House and Aldborough Hall Farms, and finally on the Green adjacent to the church halls on the corner of Oaks Lane.

In 1981, it was decided that there would be a Flower Festival in church at the same time as the Garden Party on the Green. Those arranging the flowers assembled on Friday evening and Saturday morning, showed visitors around in the afternoon and took it all down that same evening! It now takes months in planning and up to a week in preparation.

The theme for the first Festival was the Benedicite, the Canticle that starts with O all ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord, with each window taking a line. There was no brochure, the first one being produced for 1982, the theme being Festivals of the church in flowers. All displays were inside the church – we did not venture outside into the churchyard until 1987 – and the Festival ran over Saturday and Sunday from 1982.

The themes over the years have been decided by those arranging the flowers. These have ranged from the religious – The Parables of our Lord (1984), Stories from the Old Testament (1986), The Life of St. Peter (1989), Stories from the Bible (1997) to the secular – Life in Aldborough Hatch, The village in the suburbs (1983), Children's Classic Stories (2000), The Writings of Charles Dickens (2003), Let's go to the movies (2014).

We have a folder with a copy of every brochure and a list of the themes – part of the history of St. Peter's and Aldborough Hatch of an annual event that brings residents and visitors from far and wide together as a community. But it is far more than that, for the simple beauty of the flowers spells out the love of God who made all things. The weekend brings our diverse community together where we welcome those with faith, those of other faiths and those without faith into our beautiful church. May God bless you all. Revd Kate Lovesey, Priest-in-Charge

Community Memorial Garden

This month we will be making a mosaic as the centre piece of the new garden at the far end of the churchyard, funded by the Tesco grant, with the design of St. Peter's keys. There will be a training session on Saturday 15th July and the mosaic will be made over the weekend Saturday/Sunday 22nd/23rd July. A flyer is being distributed with this BROADSHEET - volunteers are warmly invited to join us in making the mosaic and in working in the garden too.
